Estudio Persona

Jessie Young and Emiliana Gonzalez, both from Montevideo, Uruguay, moved to Los Angeles in 2013. They teamed up in LA for interior design projects, bringing together their unique backgrounds: Jessie in journalism & art and Emiliana in industrial design. Eventually, this led them to design their own products in which they fell completely in love with. Two years into doing interiors, they decided to fully focus their partnership on furniture design.

In 2014, Estudio Persona was born. With a deeply collaborative process, their unconventional designs are inspired by natural forms and follow sculptural lines. A distinctly neutral and minimal monochromatic aesthetic feeds their designs.

Based at their studio and showroom in Los Angeles, Estudio Persona works with natural and contrasting materials in a unique way.

Seating

Nido Lounge Chair

The Nido chair was the result of playing with the juxtaposition of shapes. The egg-like shape of the leather upholstered wood seat nesting in the cross shaped solid wood frame, gives it the name Nido, meaning nest in Spanish. The Nido's strong lines of the base in either walnut or white oak brings style and stability without sacrificing comfort in the contrasting rounder shape of the soft leather seat.

Made exclusively for Movimento.
Open Edition.
