Artist

Maximiliano Crovato

Born in the mid-1970s, Maximiliano brings in his DNA that aesthetic that he values most, added to the pop art of the 60s. From those decades – and from the 1940s and 1980s – he evokes a passion for art by freely reevaluating and elaborating modernity of expression and global vision, giving a contemporary and international look to the conceptual and handcrafted design of sculptural and collectible pieces.

Known for his ability to infuse everyday objects with a sense of whimsy and imagination, Maximiliano Crovato's work blurs the lines between art and functional design. Its experimentation provokes new processes and technical conquests.

Coffee & Side Table

T Collection

Inspired by Morocco, a sensorial destination that impressed Maximiliano Crovato for the rich diversity of colors, lights, landscapes, and reliefs. T COLORS brings cartographic references, while “Darija” is an Arabic dialect practiced in region. Exotic, the country converges different influences, especially from Europe, which has adapted to the rich tradition Arab and Berber culture.

Made exclusively for Movimento.
